Headline:
Wintry showers on Sunday. Milder next week..

Today:
A cold and frosty start. Bright throughout the day, but wintry showers initially near coasts developing inland to affect much of the region through the morning, perhaps heavy at times with temporary accumulations on hills. Chilly throughout. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers easing through the evening with clear skies allowing temperatures to fall sharply. A widespread frost developing across the region overnight. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Monday:
Another cold and frosty start, soon becoming fine and dry with sunny spells, giving a milder feel. Isolated well-scattered showers may develop during the daytime. Patchy frost overnight. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Generally dry and bright Tuesday, cloudier towards west with scattered showers possible. Patchy frost overnight. Fine and dry Wednesday and Thursday, becoming milder by day with increasingly localised overnight frosts.
